

Winter weather can be brutal to the electric system and to those who work on it. If you lose power during a winter storm, be assured our personnel will be working as hard as they can to safely restore your power. Haste leads to accidents and injuries, which can lead to delays in service restoration. Steady and deliberate means your service gets restored as quickly as possible.

Be prepared for winter storms by having an alternate heat source or warming site. Stay tuned to our web site and Facebook page for updates and progress reports.
