

October is National Co-op Month!

This is the time of year when cooperatives across the U.S. celebrate who we are and the members we serve. Your co-op exists to provide safe, reliable and affordable energy and high-speed internet to you, the members. Equally important is our mission to enrich the lives of those we serve. We are more than your energy and internet provider. We support this community and power economic development and prosperity for the people. We think that's as important as when our first members came together to bring electricity to our rural communities. Your co-op was built by the community, for the community.
