

Weatherize today and save tomorrow

Old Man Winter's wrath will be here before we know it and now is the time to protect your home against his icy winds and driving snow. Take steps now to help lower your energy consumption and heating bills.

Proper home weatherization can pay big dividends for a few dollars spent.

Weatherization means installing proper insulation, caulking around doors and windows, adding weather stripping, installing storm doors and windows and setting back the thermostat.

For more information about weatherizing your home, visit touchstoneenergy.com/efficiency.

